Caregiver scenario: “Life is unfair. All our plans out the window! He worked so hard to save for our retirement. Now it all goes for his care. All I can do is watch as he loses all awareness of what’s happening to us.”

It is sometimes difficult for families to reconcile the tragedy of Alzheimer’s—the loss and devastation visited on a beloved family member often seems unjust. It doesn’t matter if the person lived a the tragedy of